

Allons en France! Du 13 au 24 mars 2016

PLACE DE LA COMÉDIE, MONTPELLIER

LA TOUR EIFFEL
PARIS

AAC STUDY ABROAD PROGRAM INCLUDES:

- Two hours a day at the Institut Européen de Français in Montpellier:
 - Students improve speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills in real-world situations;
 - Their knowledge and appreciation of the richness and diversity of French culture grows.
- Daily cultural and leisure-time activities:
 - Such as half-day excursions to historical and cultural sites in Languedoc;
 - Students will be a tramway ride away from nearby beaches.
- Students will live with French families living near the institute or in suburbs, serviced by buses or trams.
 - All meals are included in the cost of the program.
 - Living in a French home will enrich students' acquisition of both French language and culture.
- Three and a half day stay in Paris, the City of Lights:
 - Visits to major sites such as the Louvre, Musée d'Orsay, Eiffel Tower, Arc de Triomphe, Champs Élysées, Catacombes, Notre Dame and many more.

With a population of 250,000, Montpellier is the dynamic capital of the Languedoc Region. A university town of international renown, as well as an important center of intellectual activity, this hospitable Mediterranean city offers a wide variety of cultural events.

THE BOTTOM LINE: PROGRAM COST: $2,700, which *includes EVERYTHING

- | | |
|--|--|
| * Van trip to Boston | * Lunches purchased by students |
| * Round-trip airfare from Boston to Paris | * Cultural and social activities |
| * Round-trip train fare Paris-Montpellier | * Three excursions in the Languedoc region |
| * Three days in Paris (room and meals) | * Daily tram fare in Montpellier |
| * Tuition for eight hours of instruction | * Travel Insurance |
| * Housing (breakfast and dinner) with French families in Montpellier | |

* Except pick-up in Boston upon return to the U.S. and personal spending money

PAYMENT SCHEDULE: $1,250 due NOV. 2; $800 due DEC. 1; $650 due JAN. 4