Part or Full-time Math & Science Teacher

The Academy at Charlemont, nestled in the foothills of the Berkshire mountains, has been providing an exceptional college-preparatory education to students since 1981. Rooted in the classical tradition, and employing a progressive teaching method which honors each child as a learner, partner, and explorer, The Academy is a special place to work.

The ideal candidate would have experience teaching math and/or science to middle and/or high school age children. The course assignments will depend on the applicant, and could range from 6th grade math to high school Statistics. The ability to teach outside of the Math & Science Department is preferred, but not required, as additional experience in the Humanities, arts, or athletics could create the opportunity to make this a full-time role. Other responsibilities for this position include those that are normally part of a school commitment: advising, chaperoning events, and other routine duties. A candidate must also possess the interest and energy to thrive within a lively work pace, a genuine appreciation of adolescents, a sense of humor, and the ability to work as part of a team.
